

Boosters' Day Movement Greeted With Favor—Benders Meet Crickets

Expect That Majority of Business Houses Will be Closed for Boosters Day

Movement is Greeted Favorably By Merchants—Battle Creek Again Opponents of Bender Crew.

Indications are that the majority of stores and business establishments will be closed on Wednesday afternoon, July 8, when the Boosters of South Bend will storm Springbrook park to see the Smith crew battle with the Lansing Senators. A petition is being circulated among the merchants at this time asking that the mayor issue a half holiday proclamation and the movement is being greeted with much favor.

The fast brand of ball being displayed by the Boosters at this time is inspiring a spirit of unknown enthusiasm among the fans and the interest is increasing every day. The praise which is being accorded the South Bend club on its present road trip is unusual and is evidence that the team is playing spectacular ball. Another contest between the Boosters and Foodtown aggregation is scheduled at Battle Creek this afternoon and the Smithmen are making a strenuous effort to take three of the four games with the league champs. Kiefer will probably be on the mound today. Thursday, Friday and Saturday will see the South Bend crew in Kalamazoo while a double header is slated at Springbrook next Sunday with the Adrian outfit. If the Benders succeed in taking three straight victories from the Kazoos it will mean first division position while even breaks will push the team up considerably.

TAKE DOUBLE HEADER.

Special to the News-Times.
BATTLE CREEK, Mich., June 24.—Walter Schorr, the lengthy Hoosier hurler, earned for himself the title of the iron man of the Southern Michigan when he hurled the Hoosiers to victories in both sides of the double bill here Tuesday. The first game was 1 to 0 and the second, 2 to 1.

Schorr not only was right when it came to pitching, but he was there with the mighty swing on the hitting side of the game. He got one hit in each of the two games and in the second, he won his own contest with a large wallop to right, scoring Diem and Stevenson. After allowing the Crickets seven scattered knocks in the first game, he turned around and cut their total down to five in the second. Only one error was made in the two games, Battle Creek being responsible for the one in the long run, however the Hoosiers had it all over the Crickets for fast work on the defense. Battle Creek fandom is giving the Hoosiers credit for some of the fastest fielding seen on the Cricket grounds in years.

Shifts Batting Order.
South Bend's batting order underwent a considerable change. Kiefer is taking Broder's place in left field, but has been shifted down in the batting order. Korfhagen has been moved up from third place and is now leading off. Grodick has been shifted back to third in the batting order. Koehler is in second and Diem is in the clean-up.

Schorr was in danger but once during the first game. Time after time Koehler and Kiefer had gone back to the far edges of the enclosure and picked off hits that would have been good for extra bases. The ninth round nearly caused Walter's downfall. Laross doubled to start the session, but Duncan flew out to Koehler. Love smashed a line grounder to Stevenson, who made a perfect throw to third, catching the mighty Spike. Badger ended the rally by flying out to Kiefer in left.

BELIEF GROWS THAT HARVARD TOOK RACE

Motion Pictures Show That Yale Was Two Feet Back When Line Was Crossed.

BOSTON, June 24.—The belief that Harvard and not Yale won the varsity eight oared race on the Thames last Friday is stronger than ever today. This conviction is brought about by the first production of the moving pictures made of the race at New London, which seem to show that Harvard crossed the finish mark two feet ahead of the Yale shell. These pictures were taken from a long side the judge's boat, a position from which an accurate view of the finish could be had. Coach James Wray is highly elated with the result of the pictures, as are others associated with the Harvard crew.

TWO WATERBURYS RETIRE

Veteran Polo Players Will Not Take Part in Game.
NEW YORK, June 24.—D. Milburn and two Waterburies who have been leaders on the Meadow Brook first team and international polo for close to a decade, have withdrawn from the game. Milburn gave as his reason that for a year at least he regards it as his duty, in view of his wife's health, to give up polo. He does not wish her to worry about possible accident to him. Barring the international practice the Waterburies have not played much polo for two seasons. A year ago H. P. Whigley announced his retirement from tournament polo.

RUBBISH

EIGHT wins, a defeat, and two more wins is not such a bad record for a ball team from a village without baseball for a season.

TEN victories out of 11 games, and two out of three in a series with the second highest standing club in the wheel.

WE feel particularly kind toward that big fellow Schorr. In fact, we have almost decided to concur with the remark of a young lady at a recent game, which was, to wit: "I think Mr. Schorr is the prettiest player we have."

LIFE is what we make it either that or it's not what it's cracked up to be.

THESE days life happens to be just one darn coca cola after another.

DO YOUR DUTY Mrs. Evans.
DEAR RUBBISH:—Slanted a swell woman in a Michigan City hotel dining room the other day and was just about to ask her to go out with me and look over a couple thousand feet of films, when she addressed me as follows: "Now will there be anything more for you?" She pronounced the last "use," "u-se."

CARRANZA, old top, begins to talk as though he was using Old Crow to keep cool.

A MODERN TRAGEDY (One Reel.)
A CURIOUS crowd quickly collects as two men engage in a slight scuffle on a down town street. "Click," says a pair of handcuffs and the two move toward police headquarters, the plain clothes man and his helpless, unhappy prisoner. The following conversation ensues:

COPPER—"Your Benny the Skunk, a notorious pickpocket, forger, vagabond, train robber and black hand gent with a record as long as your arm."

PRISONER—"No, no, officer, your mistaken. Why, I am."

C—"See here, I tell you I'm—"

C—"Shut up. We know who you are. Why, Casey and I have been looking for you every day for six months."

P—"Please, officer, listen to reason. Here's my card. Can't you see I am—"

C—"Ah, cheese it, before I put out one of your tungstens. That card's a fake. We guys know your kind from A to Z."

The party arrives at the station. A (keen eyed) sergeant looks the prisoner over and prepares to book him. "What's the charge, Johnnie?" asks the sergeant.

"Suspicion and insult!" an officer of the law.

"All right, search him."

Ah, he's one of those poison needle blokes, too," says "Johnnie" gleefully, as he extracts a fountain pen from the pocket of the prisoner's coat.

"Good afternoon, Mayor," says the chief of the department, entering the room suddenly.

"Well, well, Millard, you came in just in time. You see one of your men had just picked me up on some charge or other, and I wasn't able to make my identity quite clear to him. I'll take my pen now officer if you are through with it."

MONDAY of all days of the week interests us most. First, it is pay day, and second, it is then that the supreme court renders all of its decisions. Hooray, it will be here again in four more days.

IT'S never too late to mend—or be arrested.

FLINT SAVES STANDING

ADRIAN, Mich., June 24.—Flint won from Adrian Tuesday 8 to 3. Several Adrian regulars were out of the game on account of injuries. Their team was all shot to pieces before the game had ended. Walls was hit hard and was given poor support.

KAZOOS SHOW REVERSAL

KALAMAZOO, Mich., June 24.—The Kazoos defeated Jackson here today in a batfest 11 to 6. Farren, Crossman and Koob were all hit hard, but the breaks went to the locals, which, with good fielding, game them the game.

CONTEST ENDS IN RIOT

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 24.—The Milwaukee-Louisville baseball game ended in practically a riot. Three patrol wagons of police were hurried to the ball field in a riot call when the crowd threatened to mob McLarry of Louisville, after a spiking affray in which Lewis of Milwaukee was the other party. The two ball teams started a battle royal and a series of suspensions is likely.
In the eighth inning of the second game, Lewis slid into second. McLarry claimed Lewis deliberately spiked him and jumped on Lewis' prostrate form with his spikes. Lewis jumped up and knocked McLarry down. Then the crowd rushed to the field.
